Material & Fabric Composition

Crafted from a premium blend for ultimate comfort and resilience, the Eleonora top consists of 52% Viscose, 28% Polyester, and 20% Nylon. This thoughtful composition ensures a soft, smooth hand-feel with excellent drape, while providing inherent stretch and recovery to maintain its shape wear after wear. The fabric boasts a substantial 280 GSM (grams per square meter), offering a luxurious mid-weight feel that drapes beautifully without being too heavy. The texture is a fine, even rib knit, providing subtle visual interest and a comfortable, body-hugging yet non-restrictive fit.
