

Apex Performance: The Ultimate Reinforced Sports Bra

Product Overview

Designed for the active woman, the Apex Performance Sports Bra offers unparalleled support and comfort for high-impact activities. Whether you're hitting the gym, going for a run, or mastering your yoga flow, this bra provides the confidence and freedom of movement you need. Its versatile design and various color options make it a perfect staple for any sportswear wardrobe, suitable for year-round athletic pursuits.

Material & Fabric Composition

Crafted for durability and performance, our sports bra features a premium blend of 78% Recycled Polyester and 22% Elastane. This composition ensures excellent stretch recovery, moisture-wicking properties, and a soft, breathable feel against the skin. With a fabric weight of 280 GSM, it offers robust support without feeling bulky, providing a smooth and compressive fit. The interlock knit construction gives it a dense, supportive texture with a subtle sheen.

Care Instructions

To maintain the integrity and longevity of your Apex Performance Sports Bra, please follow these care instructions: Machine wash cold with similar colors (max 30 degC). Do not bleach. Tumble dry low or hang dry to preserve elasticity. Iron on low heat if necessary, avoiding any printed areas. Do not dry clean.

Sustainability & Origin

This sports bra is consciously manufactured in Vietnam, a region known for its advanced textile production capabilities and ethical labor practices. We are proud to use a significant percentage of recycled polyester, certified by the Global Recycled Standard (GRS), which ensures traceability and environmental responsibility in our material sourcing. By utilizing recycled content, we actively reduce waste and lessen our reliance on virgin petroleum-based materials. Our commitment to sustainability also extends to our efforts to minimize the carbon footprint associated with production and logistics, continuously seeking more eco-efficient processes.

Style Notes

The Apex Performance Sports Bra is a versatile piece that can be effortlessly integrated into various activewear looks. For a high-energy workout, pair it with matching high-waisted leggings and performance trainers. Transition seamlessly to a casual post-gym look by layering it under an oversized denim jacket or a breathable mesh top, combined with track pants and stylish sneakers. It's also perfect for studio sessions when worn with biker shorts and a lightweight open-back tee. Suitable for all seasons, its moisture-wicking properties make it ideal for intense summer workouts, while its supportive structure provides a comfortable base layer for cooler weather training.
